Proceedings: IN CHAMBERS – COURT ORDER

Before the Court is a Motion for Attorneys' Fees and Costs filed by plaintiffs TrafficSchool.com, Inc. and Drivers Ed Direct, LLC ("Plaintiffs"). (Docket No. 312.) Pursuant to Rule 78 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Local Rule 7-15, the Court finds that this matter is appropriate for decision without oral argument. The hearing calendared for December 5, 2011, is vacated, and the matter taken off calendar.

I. Background

Plaintiffs commenced this action against eDriver, Inc., Online Guru, Inc., Find My Specialist, Inc., Seriousnet, Inc., Ravi K. Lahoti and Raj Lahoti ("Defendants") on November 28, 2006. The complaint was subsequently twice amended, and on July 17, 2007, Plaintiffs filed their Third Amended Complaint alleging claims for Unfair Competition/False Advertising under the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a) and Unfair Competition in violation of California Business and Professions Code section 17200 et seq.

Defendants own and manage the "http://www.dmv.org" internet domain ("DMV.ORG"), a website unrelated to the Department of Motor Vehicles, commonly known as the DMV. Defendants receive referral fees when consumers purchase traffic school courses, driver's education class and other driving-related services found through the DMV.ORG website.

Plaintiffs sell traffic school and driver's education courses and compete with DMV.ORG for referral revenue. Plaintiffs alleged that Defendants engaged in false advertising and unfair competition because their website DMV.ORG confused consumers into believing that the site is either an official Department of Motor Vehicles site, or is at least affiliated with or endorsed by that government entity.

A court trial was held on November 6–8, 2007, after which this Court held that Defendants violated section 43(a) of the Lanham Act. The Court also found that Defendants' deception was willful.

Case No.	CV 06-7561 PA (CWx)	Date	May 23, 2012
Title	TrafficSchool.com, et al. v. eDriver, Inc., et al.

This Court rejected Plaintiffs' unfair competition claim under California Business and Professions Code section 17200 et seq., finding that Plaintiffs lacked standing to pursue this claim because they failed to prove by a preponderance of the evidence that they had suffered an injury in fact and lost money or property as a result of Defendants' actions.

The Court issued an injunction requiring Defendants to employ an acknowledgment page, or "splash screen," communicating to all DMV.ORG visitors that the website is privately owned and not owned or operated by any government agency. This Court denied Plaintiffs any monetary relief, including attorneys' fees.

Under the Lanham Act, "[t]he Court in exceptional cases may award reasonable attorney fees to the prevailing party." 15 U.S.C. § 117(a). "Exceptional cases" include those in which Defendants' conduct is fraudulent, deliberate, or willful. Horphag Research Ltd. v. Garcia, 475 F.3d 1029, 1039 (9th Cir. 2007). The Court found that the case was not "exceptional" for Lanham Act purposes because Plaintiffs were awarded no damages and had unclean hands. TrafficSchool.com v. eDriver, Inc., 633 F. Supp. 2d 1063, 1088 (C.D. Cal. 2008). The Court also noted, "Plaintiffs compete with Defendants, and therefore have a large stake in this litigation. Moreover, Plaintiffs stand to indirectly gain from the injunction entered against Defendants because fewer consumers might be directed to traffic school and driver's education courses advertised on DMV.ORG, and will use Plaintiffs' traffic school and driver's education courses instead." Id. The Court also found that there was evidence that Plaintiffs were motivated by a desire to shut down their competitor, and that "Plaintiffs were motivated to file this suit by their own interest, and that the financial burden of bringing this suit was not disproportionate to their interest in the matter." Id. at 1088-89.

On January 5, 2009, Plaintiffs filed a Motion for Contempt, based on Defendants' alleged violations of the injunction. This Court denied the motion, finding that Defendants had substantially complied with the injunction and that their actions appeared to be based on a good faith and reasonable interpretation of the injunction.

On appeal, the Ninth Circuit issued an opinion finding that the permanent injunction violated the First Amendment because the splash screen erects a barrier not only to misleading commercial content, but also to protected speech. TrafficSchool.com v. eDriver Inc., 653 F.3d 820, 830 (9th Cir. 2011). The Ninth Circuit upheld this Court's refusal to hold Defendants in contempt for alleged technical violations of the injunction. Id. The Ninth Circuit also found that this Court did not err in denying damages to Plaintiffs because Plaintiffs "didn't produce any proof of past injury or causation, so the district court had no way to determine with any degree of certainty what award would be compensatory." Id. at 831 (emphasis in original).

The Ninth Circuit further held that this Court "erred in finding that defendants' conduct wasn't exceptional and that plaintiffs had unclean hands" and thus found this Court's denial of attorney's fees an abuse of discretion. Id. at 834. The Ninth Circuit upheld this Court's finding of willfulness based on evidence that defendants planned to mislead site visitors and knew that their conduct confused consumers. Id. at 832. The Ninth Circuit held that this Court should have considered this willful conduct in deciding whether to award Plaintiffs attorneys' fees, and remanded this Court to reconsider the award of attorney fees in light of these considerations. Id.

Now, Plaintiffs seek $2,867,616 in attorneys' fees, based on what they calculate to be the "presumptively reasonable" lodestar of $1,433,808 adjusted upwardly by a 2.0 multiplier. Plaintiffs also seek $65,001.44 in non-taxable recoverable costs.

II. Awarding Attorney Fees

The Lanham Act permits an attorneys' fee award to a "prevailing party" in "exceptional cases." 15 U.S.C. § 1117(a). "Plaintiffs may be considered 'prevailing parties' for attorneys' fees purposes if they succeed on any significant issue in litigation which achieves some of the benefit the parties sought in bringing suit. This is a generous formulation that brings the plaintiff only across the statutory threshold. It remains for the district court to determine what fee is 'reasonable.'" Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 433, 103 S. Ct. 1933, 1939, 76 L. Ed. 2d 40 (1983) (internal citation and quotation marks omitted). Thus, even though Plaintiffs were awarded no monetary relief, they are the "prevailing party" for attorneys' fees purposes because Plaintiffs proved that Defendants violated the Lanham Act and Plaintiffs obtained injunctive relief.

While the term "exceptional" is not defined in the statute, "exceptional cases" for attorneys' fees purposes generally include those cases in which a defendant's conduct is "fraudulent, deliberate, or willful." Horphag Research Ltd. v. Garcia, 475 F.3d 1029, 1039 (9th Cir. 2007).

The Ninth Circuit held that this is an "exceptional case" based on this Court's finding that Defendants willfully planned to mislead website visitors and knew that their conduct confused consumers. TrafficSchool.com, 653 F.3d at 832. However, even in exceptional cases, "the decision whether to award attorney's fees is still discretionary." Dieter v. B & H Indus. of Southwest Florida, Inc., 880 F.2d 322, 329 (11th Cir. 1989); see also National Ass'n of Prof'l Baseball Leagues, Inc. v. Very Minor Leagues, Inc., 223 F.3d 1143, 1146 (10th Cir. 2000) (holding that "even in exceptional cases, the award of attorney fees is vested in the discretion of the district court."); Burger King Corp. v. Pilgrim's Pride Corp., 15 F.3d 166 (11th Cir. 1994) (same); Jellibeans, Inc. v. Skating Clubs of Georgia, Inc., 716 F.2d 833, 846 (11th Cir. 1983) (same).

The Ninth Circuit also noted that "the court may take plaintiffs' failure to recover damages into account when exercising its discretion to award fees, but it must also consider that plaintiffs obtained a judgment and an injunction that ameliorate a serious public harm. In addition, the court must weigh the unlawfulness of defendants' conduct. It would be inequitable to force plaintiffs to bear the entire cost of enjoining defendants' willful deception when the injunction confers substantial benefits on the public." TrafficSchool.com, 653 F.3d at 832.

Although Plaintiffs recovered no monetary damages and obtained injunctive relief weaker than they had sought, in light of Defendants' willful deception and Plaintiffs' obtaining an injunction that ameliorated the serious public harm caused by Defendants, the Court finds that Plaintiffs are entitled to their reasonable attorneys' fees.

III. Reasonable Attorney Fees Standard

A reasonable attorneys' fee is determined in two steps. First, the Court must determine a reasonable "lodestar" fee by multiplying the number of hours reasonably expended by the attorneys on the litigation by a reasonable hourly rate. McElwaine v. US West, Inc., 176 F.3d 1167, 1173 (9th Cir. 1999). A reasonable hourly rate is "calculated according to the prevailing market rates in the relevant community, regardless of whether plaintiff is represented by private or nonprofit counsel." Sorenson v. Mink, 239 F.3d 1140, 1145 (9th Cir. 2001) (quoting Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 895, 104 S. Ct. 1541, 1547, 79 L. Ed. 2d 891 (1984)). The burden is on the plaintiff to produce evidence "that the requested rates are in line with those prevailing in the community for similar services by lawyers of reasonably comparable skill, experience, and reputation." Id. (quoting Blum, 465 U.S. at 895 n.11). Also, in determining the lodestar amount, the burden is on the party seeking fees to submit evidence supporting the hours worked and rates claimed. Van Gerwen v. Guar. Mut. Life. Co., 214 F.3d 1041, 1045 (9th Cir. 2000). The Court "should exclude from the lodestar amount hours that are not reasonably expended because they are 'excessive, redundant, or otherwise unnecessary.'" Id. (quoting Hensley, 461 U.S. at 434). "Where the documentation of hours is inadequate, the district court may reduce the award accordingly." Sorenson v. Mink, 239 F.3d 1140, 1146 (9th Cir. 2001) (internal quotation marks and citation omitted).

Second, the Court determines if the lodestar should be adjusted to accurately reflect a reasonable fee by looking at the factors discussed in Kerr v. Screen Extras Guild, 526 F.2d 67, 70 (9th Cir. 1975). "A trial court has broad discretion to determine the reasonable amount of an attorney fee award, including whether to increase or decrease the lodestar figure." Jadwin v. County of Kern, 767 F. Supp. 2d 1069, 1141 n.80 (E.D. Cal. 2011). "To the extent a trial court is concerned that a particular award is excessive, it has broad discretion to adjust the fee downward or deny an unreasonable fee altogether." Pisotoresi v. Madera Irrigation Dist., 2009 WL 910867, at *6 (E.D. Cal. April 2, 2009) (quoting Ketchum v. Moses, 24 Cal. 4th 1122, 1138, 104 Cal. Rptr. 2d 377, 388 (2001)). Although the court has broad discretion in determining attorneys' fee awards, it must provide "some indication or explanation as to how it arrived at the amount of fees awarded." Fair Hous. of Marin v. Combs, 285 F.3d 899, 907 (9th Cir. 2002).

Case No.	CV 06-7561 PA (CWx)	Date	May 23, 2012
Title	TrafficSchool.com, et al. v. eDriver, Inc., et al.

If . . . a plaintiff has achieved only partial or limited success, the product of hours reasonably expended on the litigation as a whole times a reasonable hourly rate may be an excessive amount. This will be true even where the plaintiff's claims were interrelated, nonfrivolous, and raised in good faith. . . .

. . . . That the plaintiff is a "prevailing party" therefore may say little about whether the expenditure of counsel's time was reasonable in relation to the success achieved.

There is no precise rule or formula for making these determinations. The district court may attempt to identify specific hours that should be eliminated, or it may simply reduce the award to account for the limited success. The court necessarily has discretion in making this equitable judgment.

Hensley, 461 U.S. at 436–37.

As the Ninth Circuit has held, the reasonableness of a fee award is determined by answering two questions: "First, did the plaintiff fail to prevail on claims that were unrelated to the claims on which he succeeded? Second, did the plaintiff achieve a level of success that makes the hours reasonably expended a satisfactory basis for making a fee award?" McCown v. City of Fontana, 2009 WL 1098893, at *4 (9th Cir. Apr. 24, 2009) (quoting Hensley, 461 U.S. at 434). In assessing the level of success obtained, courts should consider both the monetary and nonmonetary results achieved by the plaintiff and the extent to which the results benefit the public. Id. at *6 (quoting Morales v. City of San Rafael, 96 F.3d 359, 365 (9th Cir. 1996)).

[A]s a general matter, a prevailing party in a case involving Lanham Act and non-Lanham Act claims can recover attorneys' fees only for work related to the Lanham Act claims.

. . . . In an award of "reasonable attorney fees" pursuant to the Lanham Act, a party cannot recover legal fees incurred in litigating non-Lanham Act claims unless the Lanham Act claims and non-Lanham Act claims are so intertwined that it is impossible to differentiate between work done on claims. . . . [H]owever, that the impossibility of making an exact apportionment does not relieve the district court of its duty to make some attempt to adjust the fee award in an effort to reflect an apportionment. In other words, apportionment or an attempt at apportionment is required unless the court finds the claims are so inextricably intertwined that even an estimated adjustment would be meaningless.

Gracie, 217 F.3d at 1069–70 (internal citations and quotations omitted) (emphasis in original).

If apportionment is impossible or impractical, courts often do not attempt to apportion the time spent on related, unsuccessful claims, but simply make a percentage reduction in the hours claimed. See, e.g., Cnty. Ass’n for Restoration of the Env’t v. Henry Bosma Dairy, 305 F.3d 943 (9th Cir. 2002) (affirming reduction of fee request reduction by 30 percent to account for limited success); Cairns v. Franklin Mint Co., 292 F.3d 1139 (9th Cir. 2002) (affirming fee request reduction by 26 percent because “it is appropriate for the court to reduce a total attorney fee amount by a percentage which represents non-recoverable non-Lanham Act claims”). To merely grant Plaintiffs the entire billed amount would be excessive given Plaintiffs’ limited success. Hensley, 461 U.S. at 436.

As noted above, the burden is on the party seeking fees to submit evidence supporting the hours worked and rates claimed. Van Gerwen, 214 F.3d at 1045. “Where the documentation of hours is inadequate, the district court may reduce the award accordingly.” Hensley, 461 U.S. at 433. Here, apportionment is impossible in great part because Plaintiffs failed to provide much detail in their heavily redacted documentation of fees. Such entries make it impossible to determine whether the work was performed in relation to the Lanham Act claim or the unsuccessful section 17200 claim.

In addition to not prevailing on their section 17200 claim, Plaintiffs were awarded no monetary damages and the injunctive relief they obtained was much more limited than what they had originally sought. The Court must therefore determine to what extent Plaintiffs obtained only “limited success.”

Such awards are reviewable only to determine if the trial court abused its discretion in granting or denying them. Transgo, Inc. v. Ajac Transmission Parts Corp., 782 F.2d 1001 (9th Cir. 1985).

A party alleging that the district court erred by failing to award attorneys’ fees under § 1117 faces an uphill battle. The text of section 1117 places a heavy burden on an attorney arguing that the district court abused its discretion in refusing to award attorneys’ fees [T]he statute provides that the court “may” award fees; it does not require them.

Gracie v. Gracie, 217 F.3d 1060, 1071 (9th Cir. 2000) (internal citation and quotation marks omitted).

IV. Lodestar Calculation

Plaintiffs seek $2,867,616 in attorneys’ fees. They arrive at this figure by multiplying by two what they calculate to be the “presumptively reasonable” lodestar of $1,433,808. Plaintiffs generate their $1,433,808 lodestar figure by adding the hours they contend were reasonably expended on: (1) proceedings before the district court prior to the appellate proceedings (2,679.7 hours, of which 143.7 relate to Plaintiffs' Contempt Motion); (2) this Motion (approximately 210 hours), incorporating time estimated for the Reply and any hearings on the Motion; and (3) preparation of the Joint Status Report (approximately 115 hours), for a grand total of 3,004.7 hours. (Motion at 8.) Plaintiffs then multiply this figure by their "reasonable hourly rates" of $503 for partners and $349 for associates, based on what they determined to be prevailing market rates. These are not the rates that Plaintiffs' counsel actually billed. Plaintiffs actually billed their clients $809,850 for 3,004.7 hours, an hourly average of $269.53.

A. Reasonable Attorney Billing Rates

In their Motion, Plaintiffs seek hourly rates of $503 per hour for partners and $349 per hour for associates. "A district court should calculate this reasonable hourly rate according to the prevailing market rates in the relevant community, which typically is the community in which the district court sits." Schwarz v. Secretary of Health & Human Services, 73 F.3d 895, 906 (9th Cir. 1995) (internal citations and quotation marks omitted). "In determining a reasonable hourly rate, the district court should be guided by the rate prevailing in the community for similar work performed by attorneys of comparable skill, experience, and reputation." Chalmers v. City of Los Angeles, 796 F.2d 1205, 1210-11 (9th Cir. 1986), amended on other grounds, 808 F.2d 1373 (9th Cir. 1987). The burden is on the plaintiff to produce evidence "that the requested rates are in line with those prevailing in the community for similar services by lawyers of reasonably comparable skill, experience, and reputation." Id. (quoting Blum, 465 U.S. at 895 n.11).

According to Plaintiffs, the actual rates charged by partners are as follows:

David N. Makous: $450
Daniel C. DeCarlo: $260-$325 (average of $292.50)
Mina I. Hamilton: $225-$260 (average of $242.50)
Paula C. Greenspan: $260.

Thus, the total average of partners' billing rates is $311.25 per hour, a rate much lower than the requested rate of $503. According to Plaintiffs, Mina I. Hamilton became a partner during the course of the litigation, but as a courtesy to the client, her hourly rate previously applied as an associate was not adjusted. (See Declaration of Mina I. Hamilton ("Hamilton Decl.") ¶ 22). However, it appears that Plaintiffs' counsel did charge $260 per hour to their clients for some of Hamilton's work, which is equal to the rate charged by partner Paula C. Greenspan. Regardless of how much counsel charged for Hamilton's work or whether the work was labeled as being performed by a partner or an associate, Plaintiffs now seek their requested partner rate of $503 for all of Hamilton's work.

AMENDEDUNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIACIVIL MINUTES - GENERAL

Case No.	CV 06-7561 PA (CWx)	Date	May 23, 2012
Title	TrafficSchool.com, et al. v. eDriver, Inc., et al.

According to Plaintiffs, the actual rates charged by associates are as follows:

Joseph A. Brosas:	$180–$235 (average of $207.50)
Robert M. Collins:	$190
Daniel R. Lewis:	$110–$180 (average of $145)

Thus, the average associate billing rate is $180.83, about half of the requested $349 per hour.

“That a lawyer charges a particular hourly rate, and gets it, is evidence bearing on what the market rate is, because the lawyer and his clients are part of the market. But there is such a thing as a high charger and low charger, and the district judge is supposed to use the prevailing market rate for attorneys of comparable experience, skill and reputation, which may or may not be the rate charged by the individual attorney in question.” Carson v. Billings Police Dept., 470 F.3d 889, 892 (9th Cir. 2006).

As evidence that the prevailing market rates for attorneys are $503 for partners and $349 for associates, Plaintiffs cite a survey of intellectual property attorneys published every other year by the American Intellectual Property Law Association (“AIPLA”). (See Hamilton Decl. ¶ 16, Exh. G.) Of the 15,395 AIPLA members and nonmembers that the AIPLA invited to participate, 20.9% responded. AIPLA Report of the Economic Survey (“Survey”) 1 (2009). It is likely that the self-selecting group of attorneys willing to respond to surveys regarding their billing rates are those who charge higher rates. This, of course, assumes that these respondents accurately report their rates when there is perhaps a strong incentive to inflate what might be deemed “prevailing market rates.” Moreover, the vast majority of respondents (86.4%) had been admitted to the patent bar. Survey at 4. Only attorneys with educational backgrounds in science can sit for the patent bar. The average attorney who is a member of the patent bar presumably can and does charge more than the average attorney who is not a member. Plaintiffs cite two opinions where the court referred to an AIPLA survey to determine reasonable attorneys’ fees, and, indeed, both were patent cases.

The rates found in the Survey are average rates. According to the Survey, the average billing rate for associates in Los Angeles is $349 per hour. Even if this were the correct average rate to apply, the prevailing market rate of a first or second year associate must be less than the average billing rate of all associates. For example, associate Daniel R. Lewis was admitted to the bar on December 4, 2008 and his billing rate actually charged ranged from $110 to $180. A reasonable rate for his services could not be $349 per hour, as requested by Plaintiffs.

Plaintiffs also provide a copy of The National Law Journal’s 2010 Billing Survey Report, which includes the rates charged by the nation’s 250 largest law firms, including those of defense counsel at Foley & Lardner LLP, who, according to the survey, charge an average of $654 per hour for partners and $426 for associates. (See Hamilton Decl. ¶ 17, Exh. 17.) The billing survey also reports that former defense counsel Sheppard Mullin Richter & Hampton LLP bill at a high-end firm wide rate of $820 per hour for partners and $620 for associates. While Plaintiffs correctly note that Sheppard Mullin's average rates were not reported, Plaintiffs fail to note that the firm's low-end rates of $495 for partners and $270 for associates were included in the report. Plaintiffs also fail to note that this survey reports that the average rate for the nation's largest 250 firms is $470 for partners and $294 for associates. Most, if not all, of the firms surveyed have offices all over the country, if not the globe. For example, both Foley & Lardner and Sheppard Mullin have offices in New York, San Francisco, Brussels, and Shanghai. Los Angeles is the relevant community for purposes of determining the prevailing market rates in this case. Thus, the Court finds that this report provides little guidance regarding prevailing market rates in Los Angeles.

Plaintiffs also cite several unpublished opinions where courts have found rates above $500 per hour reasonable for experienced counsel handling complex litigation. (Motion at 10–11.) The Court does not find this very persuasive because courts have also often awarded fees below $500. See, e.g., Ingram v. Oroudjian, 647 F.3d 925 (9th Cir. 2011) (upholding district court's finding that $350 per hour was the prevailing market rate in Los Angeles). Moreover, in most of the cases Plaintiffs cite, the attorney in question had at least 20 years experience. Only one of Plaintiffs' attorneys, David N. Makous, can claim more than 20 years experience. His actual reported billing rate is $450, not far below the $503 rate that Plaintiffs request for all partners. Thus, the Court finds Makous's actual billing rate reasonable, and finds that the attorneys with less experience than Makous accordingly bill less per hour than Makous.

While Plaintiffs state that courts have recognized that "counsel sometimes deliberately charge their particular clients less for various reasons, including to foster goodwill" (Reply at 9), Plaintiffs' counsel do not provide any evidence that the rates they charged were discounted for their clients in this case, or explain why a for-profit law firm charged a much lower rate than what Plaintiffs claim is the prevailing market rate in Los Angeles. The Court therefore finds that the best indicator of the prevailing market rate in this case, based on the evidence provided by Plaintiffs, is the actual rate charged.

Plaintiffs contend that the enhanced rates they seek in this case are justified by the complexity of this case and are consistent with fee awards obtained by other counsel in similarly complex cases. The Court disagrees. Moreover, the complexity of the issues are, at least in this instance, reflected in the number of hours billed. Nothing about the complexity of this case or the level of skill exhibited by Plaintiffs' counsel justifies hourly rates in excess of those they normally charge. In light of the hourly rates charged by lawyers of comparable skill for similar work in the Central District, the routine rates billed by Plaintiffs' counsel are reasonable for the work performed in this action. See Ingram, 647 F.3d at 928 (holding that "judges are justified in relying on their own knowledge of customary rates and their experience concerning reasonable and proper fees.")

The Court therefore concludes that reasonable hourly rates in this instance are those that were actually charged: $450 for David N. Makous; $260–$325 for Daniel C. DeCarlo; $225–$260 for Mina I.

Hamilton; $260 for Paula C. Greenspan; $180–$235 for Joseph A. Brosas; $190 for Robert M. Collins; and $110–$180 for Daniel R. Lewis. Thus, if all of the hours actually billed by Plaintiffs’ counsel were reasonably billed, then $809,850 would be the proper lodestar figure. However, as discussed below, the Court does not find every hour to have been reasonably billed.

B. Reasonable Hours Billed

Plaintiffs seek attorneys’ fees for 3,004.7 hours: 2,679.7 hours on proceedings before this Court prior to the appellate proceedings (including 143.7 hours for Plaintiffs’ Contempt Motion); approximately 210 hours on this Motion, incorporating time estimated for the Reply and any hearing on the Motion; and approximately 115 hours preparing the Joint Status Report. Defendants contend that to the extent that this Court finds that Plaintiffs are entitled to any attorneys’ fees, they are only entitled to fees for 1,012.4 hours, for a total of $213,686.55.

To assist the Court’s review of the reasonableness of the requested fees, the Court ordered the parties to prepare a Joint Statement detailing the tasks completed by Plaintiffs’ attorneys and paralegals, the amount of time Plaintiffs seek for each of those tasks, any reduction to those hours proposed by Defendants, and the parties’ rationale in support of any disputed items. The Court has examined the disputed hours detailed in the parties’ Joint Statement and the evidence presented by the parties in support and opposition to the Motion for Attorneys’ Fees.

The Court concludes, after examining counsel’s billing records, that the reasonableness of the hours requested by Plaintiffs’ counsel is not supported by the evidence because many of the time entries are either excessive or vague. In particular, the billing records include an excessive amount of time spent on e-mails and conferences amongst counsel. While such e-mails and conferences are necessary to a certain extent, many of the billing entries refer merely to “e-mails” that are exchanged and “conferences” that take place; there is no further description from which the Court may determine whether the time spent on these tasks was reasonable. There are also numerous time entries that are redacted. Without a more detailed description of the task involved, the Court cannot determine whether these time entries are reasonable.

Because of Plaintiffs’ counsel’s failure to meet their burden to establish that the hours they seek were reasonably expended in this litigation, the Court has reduced or eliminated hours claimed by Plaintiffs. Sorenson, 239 F.3d at 1146. The Court’s reductions to the requested hours are reflected in the “Hours Awarded” column of the spreadsheet the Court has attached to this Order as Exhibit A.

Where the Court has made reductions, it has done so for the reasons stated in the “Reason for Reduction” column. In some instances, where Plaintiffs’ counsel billed multiple tasks in a single time entry, and the Court could determine the reasonableness of some but not all of the time requested, the Court has awarded a reasonable amount of time for the adequately described task. Moreover, the Court does not grant Plaintiffs any fees which were not charged or written off by Plaintiffs' counsel. As indicated in Exhibit A, the Court concludes that Plaintiffs have adequately supported $567,129.50 of their requested attorneys' fees for tasks associated with this action.

The Court has also tried to allocate as best as possible what fees were expended on Plaintiffs' successful claims versus what fees were expended on Plaintiffs' unsuccessful claims. Plaintiffs received no monetary relief, even though they sought substantial damages. Instead of seeking compensatory damages, Plaintiffs sought disgorgement of Defendants' profits under an unjust enrichment theory. TrafficSchool.com, 633 F. Supp. 2d at 1087. Seeking to disgorge a portion of Defendants' millions of dollars in profits, Plaintiffs obtained nothing. Any time spent on damages should thus be entirely excluded. Furthermore, given that there was evidence that Plaintiffs wanted to completely shut down DMV.ORG, Plaintiffs did not receive the injunction that they had hoped for, and their goals were further thwarted on appeal. This action has been litigated rather fiercely by both sides, in part because of the breadth of the relief Plaintiffs initially sought but did not obtain.

Because Plaintiffs lost on their state law unfair competition claim, received no monetary damages for either claim, and did not obtain an injunction as strong as they sought, the Court finds that, based on their level of success, Plaintiffs are not entitled to recover fees for all of the hours they performed. Based purely on the results obtained, the Court could have reduced the amount even further given that the Court finds that Plaintiffs obtained much less than what they sought. However, the Court recognizes that much of the work performed on the successful Lanham Act claim overlapped with that work performed on the unsuccessful state law claim. The Court also takes into account the substantial benefits that the injunction conferred on the public.

1. Reasonable Hours for Proceedings Before this Court

The 2,536 hours related to Plaintiffs' work on proceedings before this Court prior to appellate proceedings (not including work performed on their Contempt Motion) break down as follows: 241.2 hours and $56,673.50 for pleadings; 773.3 hours and $216,455.50 for discovery; 463.1 hours and $114,592.50 for cross motions for summary judgment; 590.9 hours and $157,388.00 for pre-trial work; 467.5 hours and $131,738.50 for trial through post-judgment work. The total sought by Plaintiffs for this work is $676,848.00. Based on the reasons given in Exhibit A, The Court awards Plaintiffs $528,529.50 for this work.

2. Reasonable Hours for Contempt Motion

On January 5, 2009, Plaintiffs filed a Motion for Contempt for Violation of the Court's Injunction and for Sanctions, based on Defendants' alleged violations of the injunction. (Docket No. 261.) This Court denied the motion, finding that Defendants had substantially complied with the injunction, and their actions appeared to be based on a good faith and reasonable interpretation of the injunction. For their unsuccessful Contempt Motion, Plaintiffs seek attorneys' fees for 143.7 hours expended (for which they actually billed $38,902).

While Plaintiffs concede that their Motion for Contempt was denied, they appear to be arguing that the Court's indication in a footnote that the Court might have modified the injunction but declined to do so since the injunction was on appeal somehow transforms their unsuccessful Contempt Motion into a successful one. (Motion at 16.) If anything, the view expressed in the footnote further supports this Court's finding that Defendants had substantially complied with the injunction and that their actions appeared to be reasonable and in good faith. Because Plaintiffs were unsuccessful on their Contempt Motion, the Court awards them nothing for the time spent on that motion.

3. Reasonable Hours for Attorneys' Fees Motion

Plaintiffs seek $61,125 for 210 hours incurred in connection with this Motion, including time estimated for a reply and for a hearing. "In statutory fee cases, federal courts . . . have uniformly held that time spent in establishing the entitlement to and amount of the fee is compensable." Camacho v. Bridgeport Fin., Inc., 523 F.3d 973, 981 (9th Cir. 2008) (quoting In re Nucorp Energy, Inc., 764 F.2d 655, 659-60 (9th Cir. 1985)). However, these hours must be reasonable.

As an initial matter, the Court reduces the fees by $7,100, the amount Plaintiffs seek for 20 hours of work to prepare for and attend the hearing on this Motion. Because the hearing has been vacated, this work will not be necessary. That leaves 190 hours for preparing the Motion and the Reply.

Plaintiffs seek $32,000 for 120 hours for work on the Motion and an additional $20,125 for an estimated 70 hours for preparing the Reply in support of their Motion. After subtracting $7,100 for the vacated hearing from the requested $61,125 fee and reducing the remaining fees based on their reasonableness, the Court awards Plaintiffs $18,200 for their work related to this Motion and the Reply.

4. Reasonable Hours for Joint Status Report

Plaintiffs seek $32,975 for 115 hours of work for preparing the Joint Status Report. Plaintiffs also anticipate additional fees for further briefing and work related to the Joint Status Report. Defendants contend that Plaintiffs are entitled to only $3,600, which they calculate by multiplying 15 hours of work performed by partner David N. Makous by his $450 hourly rate. Defendants reject the majority of the work performed based on it being duplicative and excessive. Having reviewed Plaintiffs' work on the Joint Status Report, the Court awards Plaintiffs $21,000.

Based on the above analysis, the Court finds that by adding $528,529.50 for proceedings before this Court, $18,200 for this Motion, $21,000 for the Joint Status Report, and nothing for the Motion for Contempt, the proper lodestar figure is $567,729.50.

V. The Lodestar Multiplier

Plaintiffs contend that the Court should apply a 2.0 multiplier to their lodestar calculation, and thus seek $2,867,616, twice of their lodestar calculation of $1,433,808.

After determining the lodestar, the Court determines if the lodestar amount should be adjusted to accurately reflect a reasonable fee by looking at the various factors discussed in Kerr v. Screen Extras Guild, 526 F.2d 67, 70 (9th Cir. 1975). The twelve Kerr factors bearing on reasonableness are:

(1) the time and labor required, (2) the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved, (3) the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly, (4) the preclusion of other employment by the attorney due to acceptance of the case, (5) the customary fee, (6) whether the fee is fixed or contingent, (7) time limitations imposed by the client or the circumstances, (8) the amount involved and the results obtained, (9) the experience, reputation, and ability of the attorneys, (10) the ‘undesirability’ of the case, (11) the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client, and (12) awards in similar cases.

Id. “There is a strong presumption that the lodestar figure represents a reasonable fee. ‘Only in rare instances should the lodestar figure be adjusted on the basis of other considerations.’” Morales v. City of San Rafael, 96 F.3d 359, 363 n.8 (9th Cir. 1996) (quoting Harris v. Marhoefer, 24 F.3d 16, 18 (9th Cir. 1994)). “[T]he court need not discuss each factor. It is sufficient if the record shows that the court consider[s] the factors called into question by the case at hand and necessary to support the reasonableness of the fee award.” Sapper v. Lenco Blade, Inc., 704 F.2d 1069, 1073 (9th Cir. 1983) (internal citations and quotation marks omitted).

Some of the Kerr factors are subsumed into the initial lodestar calculation while others are not. “Adjusting the lodestar on the basis of subsumed reasonableness factors after the lodestar has been calculated, instead of adjusting the reasonable hours or reasonable hourly rate at the first step . . . is a disfavored procedure.” Morales, 96 F.3d at 364 n.9. Among the subsumed factors presumably taken into account in either the reasonable hours component or the reasonable rate component of the lodestar calculation are the novelty and complexity of issues, the special skill and experience of counsel, the quality of representation, and the results obtained. Id. (citing Cabrales v. County of Los Angeles, 864 F.2d 1454, 1464 (9th Cir. 1988)). Although the results obtained is a factor subsumed into the initial lodestar, and thus the Court may not adjust the lodestar based on that factor, the Court does have discretion to consider the results obtained in determining whether the hours spent on the case were reasonable. See Cunningham v. County of Los Angeles, 879 F.2d 481, 486 (9th Cir. 1989).

Plaintiffs contend that “time and labor required,” “novelty and difficulty of the questions involved,” “the customary fee” and the “results obtained” are factors that militate in favor of an upward adjustment of the lodestar amount, so long as these factors were not already subsumed within it. (Motion at 19–20.) Defendants argue that each of the Kerr factors weigh in favor of reducing fees, and in fact contend that “[b]ased upon the Kerr factors, reducing the fees to $0 would not be an abuse of discretion.” (Opp. at 23.)

Many of the factors have already been subsumed into the lodestar calculation of reasonable fees. The first factor (“time and labor required”) and the second factor (“novelty and difficulty of the questions involved”) were reflected in the hours Plaintiffs billed, and the Court reduced these hours accordingly in its reasonable hour analysis. The third factor (“requisite skill to perform legal services properly”) and the ninth factor (“experience, reputation and ability of counsel”) were also accounted for in both the reasonable rate analysis and in the reasonable hours analysis. Similarly, the fifth factor (“customary fee”) has already been subsumed in the reasonable rate analysis where the Court found that the actual rates charged were reasonable. The eighth factor (“amount involved and results obtained”) was also examined at length above in the lodestar calculation, as was the twelfth factor (“awards in similar cases”).

Both Plaintiffs and Defendants think that the seventh factor (“time limitations by client or circumstances”) and the tenth factor (“undesirability” of the case”) are either inapplicable or neutral. The Court agrees. The eleventh factor (“nature and length of professional relationship with client”) may weigh slightly in favor of reducing fees since Plaintiffs were long-term clients; however, the Court finds this factor’s effect on the lodestar to be negligible.

The fourth factor (“preclusion of other employment by attorneys due to acceptance of the case”) weighs slightly against Plaintiffs. Having partners and associates perform work which could have been performed by non-attorney staff, and having partners perform work which could have been performed by associates suggests that these attorneys were not refusing other employment due to the acceptance of this case. The sixth factor (“whether the fee is fixed or contingent”) also weighs slightly against Plaintiffs since the case was not taken on contingency, and thus Plaintiffs’ counsel did not assume the risk of receiving no payment at all for its services.

Based on the above analysis of the Kerr factors, the Court finds that Plaintiffs have not overcome the strong presumption that the lodestar figure represents a reasonable fee. Nor have Defendants demonstrated that the figure should be adjusted downward. Therefore, the Court does not apply a multiplier to the lodestar figure.

VI. Reasonable Costs

Finally, Plaintiffs seek an award of litigation expenses in the amount of $65,001.44. These expenses include duplication costs, transcripts, survey expenses, and expert fees. These expenses are not taxable under Central District Local Rule 54-4, but are recoverable as “reasonable attorneys’ fees” if the prevailing practice in the local community is separate billing for such expenses. See Trs. of the Constr. Indus. & Laborers Health & Welfare Trust v. Redland Ins. Co., 460 F.3d 1253, 1258 (9th Cir. 2006). As with awarding fees, in awarding costs, district courts enjoy wide discretion. See Shakey’s, Inc. v. Covalt, 704 F.2d 426 (9th Cir. 1983) (upholding trial court’s denial of expenses for taking a survey, where the survey was not essential to party’s case).

Defendants contend that the Court should allow no more than $29.85 in costs, arguing that most of the costs “appear to be unrelated to Lanham Act claims, or related to the ill-fated contempt motion.” (Opp. at 24.) Just as with fees, limited relief justifies award of less than full costs. See K-S-H Plastics, Inc. v. Carolite, Inc., 408 F.2d 54 (9th Cir. 1969). Defendants also object to each of the costs because the time entries are so vague that it is impossible to assess their reasonableness or whether they relate to successful claims. Defendants also contend that the Court should deny Plaintiffs’ request for expert witness fees because Plaintiffs failed to include sufficient explanation as to the reasonableness of the hours spent. (Opp. at 24.)

As with the request for attorneys’ fees, the Court ordered the parties to prepare a Joint Statement detailing the non-taxable costs. The Court has examined the disputed costs and agrees with Defendants that Plaintiffs have failed to demonstrate the reasonableness of many of the costs they seek. For example, many of the entries read “duplication” or “long distance telephone.” For these entries, the Court awards nothing and has indicated in Exhibit B that the “Entry lacks sufficient detail to determine reasonableness.” As for the costs related to survey expenses and for expert Dr. Thomas Maronick’s services, the Court finds that Plaintiffs have failed to demonstrate the reasonableness of these costs. See Secalt S.A. v. Wuxi Shenxi Constr. Machinery Co., 668 F.3d 677, 690 (9th Cir. 2012) (holding that the district court abused its discretion in awarding costs, including for “legal research” and “expert witness fee,” by failing to determine their reasonableness). The Court also awards nothing for the costs related to Plaintiff’s unsuccessful Motion for Contempt. In sum, the Court awards Plaintiffs $6,034.95 in costs.

Conclusion

For all of the foregoing reasons, Plaintiffs are therefore entitled to attorneys’ fees of $567,729.50 and costs of $6,034.95.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
